

I would like to express my support to allow consumers to retain the same phone number when they change cell phone service. Right now I feel held hostage by my cell phone company because it would be extremely difficult for me to change cell numbers. Being a realtor I use this phone for business and it would be virtually impossible for me to change numbers without losing touch with clients. A number change would be very costly in terms of business lost. Because of my inability to keep my same number if I switched service, I cannot take advantage of more competitive offers. I am stuck!!!
